

You Gotta Love Frontend

Tel Aviv FrontEnd Conference | June 8-9 2015

CONVINCE YOUR BOSS

We proudly present You Gotta Love Frontend, a two-day event filled with exciting lectures and networking opportunities specifically for front-end developers, web designers, and tech professionals interested in the very latest developments in web technologies.

Come get inspired by internationally renowned industry speakers Douglas Crockford, Martin Kleppe and Lea Verou, who are eager to share their insights at YGLF.

Want to take your knowledge and skills to the next level? See you in Tel Aviv!

DISCUSS ADVANCED TOPICS

YGLF focuses on the field's most advanced topics, presented in a mix of technical and inspirational talks. Here's just a taste of what to expect: the future of FED technologies; writing full-stack JavaScript applications; Front-End Architecture reconsidered; CSS up-and-coming changes; testing on the Client side; Continuous Delivery; working with browsers on TV and wearables; and much more.

DISCOVER NEW TECHNOLOGY

YGLF also features the most current developments in front-end technology. Not only do you get a front-row seat to all of this mind-blowing greatness, but you can also learn from the different approaches of some of the field's most respected mentors.

KEEP UP WITH THE TRENDS

As today's software keeps advancing, so too does the front-end field and, especially, its contributions. What better way to stay on top of the ever-changing front-end trends than by being in the middle of all who set them?

ENGAGE WITH TOP PROFESSIONALS

YGLF brings together some of the industry's top professionals who love talking about what they know and do. This means tons of information ready to be implemented immediately upon your return to work.

NETWORK WITH THE BEST OF THEM

Since you'll be among 700 other like-minded front-end professionals, it's the perfect opportunity to network and establish valuable industry contacts.
